

Being an over the road truck driver the service that I get from XM Radios on demand weather and road reports is a life saver. I dont have to hunt local radio stations to try to find one that may have road or weather reports in a city that I only travel through. I can (have) pre selected the cities that I am going through on my trip and I can plan for road delays or weather issues before they arise.

I wish this system was expanded even further. Please cover more cities.
